Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-10,12-13,15-20 and 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by WO 02/063294.

WO 02/063294 teaches an air monitoring system associated with a ventilation system comprising a filtration system and a detector. Page 14 lines 4-13 teach the gas sensors detect carbon dioxide, nitrogen, VOC's and oxygen.

Claims 1-2, 4-8, 11-13,15-20 and 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Roberts (USP 2,996,661).

Roberts teach a system for detecting leaks in ventilation system using a tracer from the halogen family (see column 3 line 71) which has been read on the claimed argon tracer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3,14,21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 02/063294 or Roberts in view of Leiman et al. (USP 4,879,999).

See WO 02/063294 and Roberts supra.

WO 02/063294 is silent to the claimed filter housing containing soda lime.

Leiman et al. teach a colorimetric device for the detection of carbon dioxide. In column 5 Leiman et al. teach their indicator comprises soda lime and a pH indicator and is advantageous because it provides quick visual determination of physiologically significant levels of carbon dioxide (e.g. as evidenced by its use with an endotracheal device).

It would have been within the skill of the art to modify either WO 02/063294 or Roberts in view of Leiman et al. and use a soda lime indicator to gain the above advantages of quick visual determination.
